Supply Chain

A reliable and responsive in-state supplier network is an essential component of Arizona's technology business development program.

The www.azbusinesslinc.com database includes capability information on more than 2,000 high-tech and other companies in Arizona. It has resulted in well over $60 million in new contracts. Local companies are encouraged to enter their profile at the website and use its database to locate needed products and services. There is no cost for local companies to participate in the AzBusinessLINC.Com program.

Another local supplier development collaboration is the Arizona Manufacturing Network. It is an association of more than 50 Phoenix area companies who have united with the support of local consultants, government officials and educators to expand the market for Arizona manufacturers. More details may be found at the Arizona Manufacturing Network website at www.arizonamep.org or call 480-874-9100.
