As Governor, Arizona’s economic turnaround is my focus. I have aimed to make this state the easiest, most attractive location to start and expand a business. After all, our small business owners and entrepreneurs are the true job creators in Arizona. They are our most significant stewards of wealth and prosperity.

That’s why I have championed a model for economic recovery in which the government keeps taxes competitive and regulations lean. We focus on improving our schools and quality of life, and keep government interference to a minimum in order to free the private sector to do what it does best: create jobs. It’s working.

The climate we have built for business success here in Arizona is being recognized nationally. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce just released its Enterprising States Report, and ranked Arizona among the ten Best States to start a business. Additionally, Chief Executive Magazine ranked us the 6th-best state in the nation in which to do business - up four spots in the rankings from a year ago.

I am delighted to bring you this edition of the Entrepreneur’s Edge, Arizona’s official guide for establishing and operating a small business. My Arizona Commerce Authority stands ready with a host of resources to assist small businesses and entrepreneurs across our state as they grow their businesses.

Please contact my Arizona Commerce Authority to assist you. Together, I know we will continue to make Arizona a beacon for entrepreneurs and small-business leaders.

Sincerely,

Janice K. Brewer
Governor

Arizona Commerce Authority’s (ACA) Checklist Program

The ACA’s free online Checklist Program is designed to help you easily navigate information on what you need to know, who you need to contact and where you need to go to license your business in Arizona.

STEPS TO LICENSING YOUR BUSINESS

- Registering your business
- Obtaining an EIN number
- Filing for your business license
- Applying for a state sales tax license
- Hiring employee requirements
- City/town compliances

The Checklist guides you through a series of brief questions to create your own customized business checklist. From your customized business checklist, you will be able to either apply online or download your license applications. It includes telephone numbers and addresses of all state, county and city/town licensing offices. It also includes contact information to statewide resources and assistance to accelerate your business growth.

The process of going through the Checklist generally takes 10-15 minutes to complete. Visit our website at www.azcommerce.com/services/small-business-services to create your customized business checklist.

Your business plan should be:

- A well-thought-out document stating your goals and how you plan to develop and finance it.
- Primarily for you to prove that you can reach your financial goals as well as personal.
- For lenders, investors and associates to fully understand what the business is and how it will be done.

PURPOSES OF THE BUSINESS PLAN

As a planning tool, the business plan guides you through the various phases of your business. A thoughtful plan will help identify roadblocks and obstacles so that you can avoid them and establish alternatives. Many business owners share their business plans with their employees to foster a broader understanding of where the business is going.

As a communication tool, it is used to attract investment capital, secure loans, convince workers to join the company, and assist in attracting strategic business partners. The development of a comprehensive business plan determines whether a business has the potential to make a profit. It requires a realistic look at almost every phase of your business and allows you to show that you have worked out all the problems and decided on potential alternatives before actually launching your business.

As a management tool, the business plan helps you track, monitor, and evaluate your progress. The business plan is a living document that you will modify as you gain knowledge and experience. By using your business plan to establish timelines and milestones, you can gauge your progress and compare your projections to actual accomplishments.

Before you begin writing your business plan, consider the following core questions:

- What service or product does your business provide?
- What problem in the marketplace does it solve?
- What needs or wants does it fill?
- Who are the potential customers for your product or service and why will they purchase it from you?
- How will you reach your potential customers?
- Where will you get the financial resources to start your business?
Elements of a Business Plan

I. TITLE PAGE
The title page should contain the following items, double-spaced, horizontally centered and positioned just above the center of the page:
- Business name
- Owner(s) name
- Complete contact information

II. TABLE OF CONTENTS
The Table of Contents should list the title of each section of the document and indicate the page number where each is located. It also should list specific support items (appendices) by name.

Table of Contents page will be completed last, since it requires the entire document as input. It allows the reader to quickly locate specific sections.

III. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
Most important section of the business plan:
- Should be written last.
- Will be viewed first.
- An enthusiastic snapshot of your company, explaining who you are, what you do and why.

The Executive Summary should be not more than a two-page explanation of what your business is and its competitive advantage.

Here you will provide a clear description of the industry in which you are competing and a precise explanation of your business’ unique qualities that set it apart from the competition. This section is the business description of:
- Your story: Who you are, why you exist (the problem in the market place), special benefits, unique features, patents and copyrights. Your mission, vision and core values.
- What you do: Business model, what’s in it for the customer (the solution you offer), product/service, production costs, benefits, competition and market.
- Where you’re going: What success looks like, goals, financials and proof of profitability.
- How you’re going to get there: Action plans, long-term strategy and roadmap.

IV. MARKETING PLAN
This section should contain a narrative description of these factors:

A. Product/Service
- What is this industry’s outlook? What is the demand for your product or service?
- What needs/wants/benefits are sought by your customers (what’s in it for them)?
- Specifically, how does your product/service meet those needs/wants/benefits?
- How is your product/service unique from the competition?
- What customer services do you provide to support the central product/service?

B. Target Market
First, determine if your focus is on consumers (end-users) or other businesses. Tailor your responses to the following appropriate category:
- Describe your customer base. Who and where is your target market?
- What needs/wants/benefits are sought by your customer that your product/service satisfies?
- When and under what circumstances does your customer buy your product or service?
- Describe the volume and frequency of your customer’s purchases.
- Based on available data, what is the expected volume of your target market?
- Of that target market, what is the projected volume of actual paying customers?

Additional information on writing a business plan can be found on the U.S. Small Business Administration’s website at www.sba.gov under the “Starting & Managing a Business” menu, select “Writing a Business Plan.” Also, under the “Counseling & Training” menu, you can find local contacts such as AZSBC and SCORE, who provide FREE, one-on-one counseling. They can assist you by reviewing your business plan and your business ideas.
Consumer: It is important for you to develop a clear, mental picture of your ideal customers. Describe your potential customers using the following factors: age, gender, income, education, location, occupation, interests, buying habits, and goals and aspirations.

Businesses: If selling to a business, your description should include type of business, size of business, priority placed on purchasing your product/service; projected image of the business, markets that the business services, its trade organizations and memberships, and the trade publications read.

C. Competition
A description of your competition should answer the following questions:
- Who are your major competitors?
- Why are they successful? What are their strengths and weaknesses?
- What alternatives are there to your product?
- How do alternatives impact your sales?
- What distinctive differences separate you from your competitors?
- Why should customers leave your competitors to choose your product/service?
- What market share do you expect?

D. Location Analysis
Describe your business location and how it will enhance the sale of your product or service. Your description should answer the following questions:
- What strategic advantages do you have at this location?
- Is there opportunity for expansion?
- What are the neighboring businesses?
- Do they complement/detract from yours?
- Are renovations needed? At what cost?
- What is the zoning classification?
- Is the neighborhood stale, changing, improving, deteriorating? How?
- How is customer access, parking, safety, etc.?

Include in the appendix a photograph of the building, a drawing of the immediate area showing road access and identity of adjoining businesses, and a drawing of the floor plan of your business.

E. Price Determination
A description of the price structure for your product or service will answer the following questions:
- How does the unit cost of your product compare to the relative value seen by the customer?
- How does your price compare with the competition price?
- Why will customers pay your price?
- What image will this price project?
- What special advantages do your customers get that is included in the price?
- Will you offer credit terms?

F. Marketing Approach
A description of your marketing effort should answer the following questions:
- What are the test market results?
- Where do your customers seek information about purchasing your product/service?
- How will your image be clearly and consistently conveyed to potential buyers?
- Which media are most suitable?
- How will you evaluate the effectiveness of each advertising and promotional effort?
- How will you use/evaluate a sales staff?

V. MANAGEMENT PLAN OR OPERATIONAL PLAN
This section contains a detailed description of who will run the business and how they will do it, including the following:

A. Management Team
A description of how the business will be managed will answer these questions:
- What business management background do you have?
• How will that drive the business?
• How is the experience of key people related to this type of business?
• What legal form will you use, sole proprietorship, partnership, LLC or corporation?
• Who does what? Who reports to whom?
• What resources are needed and who will provide them (accountant, lawyer, etc.)?

B. Employee Relations
A description of your methods of hiring, training and communicating with your staff will answer these questions:
• What are your personnel needs?
• What skills will be required?
• How will you hire and train?
• What salary/benefits will be provided?
• How will you determine wage increases?
• What personnel policies will be provided?

C. Operational Controls
A description of the kinds of management systems and how they will be used will answer these questions:
• What is your production capacity?
• What operating advantages do you have?
• What elements are key to your success?
• How will you monitor these factors?
• What hazards do you anticipate for your business?
• What protection and/or alternate plans do you have?
• What policies will you establish for the operation of your business?
• Who are your suppliers?
• How will costs be controlled?

VI. FINANCIAL PLAN
A description of how your business will be financed and how you will maintain a sound financial condition will answer the following questions:

A. Current Funding Requirement
• How much money will be needed for starting your business?
• What will be the sources of startup capital?
• What business and personal assets will be pledged as collateral?

B. Use of Funds
• How will the money be spent (working capital, capital expenditures, etc.)?
• How will borrowed funds make your business more profitable?

C. Long-Range Financial Strategies
• How will you liquidate your investors’ position?
• What terms of repayment are feasible?
• What will you do if repayment cannot be accomplished as planned?

D. Financial Statements
To support this section, several financial statements will be required, such as the following:
• Personal financial statement of owner
• Business startup costs
• Pro forma cash flow analysis (expected)
• Balance sheet (actual or proposed)
• Income statement (actual or proposed)
• Breakeven analysis
• Competitive analysis

See worksheets on the following pages.

VII. STRATEGIC PLAN
It is important to include a description of where you want your venture to be in the next few years and how you intend to achieve those goals.

This strategic plan should focus on years two through five and include descriptions of the following items:
• Strengths within your organization
• Weaknesses within your organization
• Opportunities available to you
• Threats impeding you

Using these four factors, you should describe strategies that use your strengths to take advantage of opportunities and overcome threats and strategies to reduce weaknesses and avoid threats to your business. They should identify intermediate goals (yearly) and the marketing, management and financial resources to achieve these goals.

Be sure your goals are SMART goals (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, Timely).

Special thanks and appreciation to Roger S. Robinson, Ph.D., Greater Phoenix SCORE, for his time and support in developing this section.

The ACA’s Access to Capital Academy presented by the Phoenix Community & Economic Development and Investment Corporation (PCDIC) — helps entrepreneurs learn how to approach potential lenders with confidence and an increased chance at securing loans.
There are several sources to consider when looking for financing. It is important to explore all of your options before making a decision.

The primary source of capital for most new businesses come from personal savings and other forms of personal resources such as friends and family, when starting out. While credit cards often are used to finance business needs, there may be better options available, even for very small loans. Often, money is loaned interest-free or at a low rate which can be beneficial.

The most common source of funding, banks, and credit unions will provide a loan if you can show a sound business proposal.

Generally, there are no grants to individuals to start or expand a small business.

The best source for federal grant programs is www.grants.gov. You can sign up for automatic updates, and the site also includes useful information regarding the federal grants submission process.

BORROWING MONEY

Lenders are not in the business of taking risks. Consequently, they have conservative and basic guidelines for financing.

A common loan criteria is known as the Five C’s: Capacity, Collateral, Credit, Character and Conditions:

- Capacity - the customer’s ability to repay the loan based on the business’ cash flow. Capacity should be demonstrated on a historical (financial statements, three years of business tax returns, etc.) and prospective (projections) basis.
- Collateral - property pledged by a borrower to protect the interest of the lender. By putting up collateral, you show that you are committed to the success of your business.

A financial institution avoids making loans without collateral. With an SBA loan, financial institution may relax some portion of its lending criteria.

- Credit - you have paid your debts more or less on time, no history of bankruptcy or creditor lawsuits, and have proven that you can use credit effectively. Lenders normally investigate both the company’s and the owner’s past credit history.

- Character - the most subjective ingredient within the formula. It encompasses the lender’s perceptions and analysis of the borrower’s reputation and integrity, background and experience, financial sophistication, involvement and persistence.

- Conditions - the terms of loan, including loan amount, interest rate and credit policies established by the financial institution.

APPLYING FOR LOANS

Businesses seeking financing will need:

- A completed loan application
- Three years of fiscal year-end business financial statements, including income statements and balance sheets
- Current, year-to-date business financial statements
APPLYING FOR LOANS (continued)

- Current personal financial statements from anyone owning 20 percent or more of the business
- Two years of personal income verification
- Management resumes
- A business debt schedule

Be prepared to fully discuss the
- Size of Loan – Be prepared to clearly identify the total funds needed. Be specific.
- Owner Equity – In most cases, the owner(s) will be expected to provide up to 50-percent of the funds required. This assures the lender that the business owners have a significant personal investment in the project.
- How Funds Are to Be Used – Be prepared to provide a detailed outline of the use of loan funds. Most loans are for one of the followings reasons: (a) to purchase new equipment; (b) to pay off existing debts; or (c) to expand the business.
- Why Your Company is a Good Credit Risk – Briefly explain why your company has been, and will continue to be a good credit risk, and how this loan will help.
- Personal Credit Record – The personal credit record of each owner or officer will be reviewed by the lender. Be prepared to discuss financial records of your business and all owners or officers.
- Payback Plan – Clearly demonstrate how your company will be able to repay the loan. Information must include cash-flow projections. Your detailed business plan will provide valuable information for your lender.
- Alternative Payback Plan – The alternative payback plan clearly shows the lenders how the loan will be paid if your business fails.

See Chapter 2, Business Assistance and Counseling, for organizations that provide technical support in developing business plans.

Why a loan is declined? There are many reasons why a lender will decline a business loan request. They may range from a poorly conceived business idea to having little or no collateral. Ask the lender why your loan was declined – Remember, if it’s “no” today, learn how to make it “yes” tomorrow!

SBA’s LOAN GUARANTY PROGRAMS

The SBA offers a wide variety of loan programs. See the next page for its loan guaranty programs.

COMMERCIAL LOANS

In Arizona, many businesses seek credit financing through a commercial bank. Commercial banks provide the business community with a variety of financing options such as SBA guaranteed loans, commercial installment loans, and letters of credit.

A loan officer from your bank can discuss which type of loan will best meet your needs, outline the application and procedures.

A variety of loan arrangements are available through finance companies, insurance companies and mortgage bankers. Review lender ratings on the SBA website at www.sba.gov/az, under “What’s New.”

SBA RESOURCES

Free clinics on how to prepare a SBA loan application and approach a lender to improve chances for approval. For schedules, visit the SBA website at www.sba.gov/az or call 602-745-7200.

The Small Business Resource magazine provides information on financing options to start or grow a business and can be viewed online at www.sbaguides.com.

SBA MICRO LENDERS: FINANCIAL SERVICES WITH TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Microloan programs provide small loans ranging from less than $500 up to $50,000. As part of this program, the SBA makes funds available to non-profit intermediaries that, in turn, make the small loans directly to entrepreneurs. Proceeds may be used for typical business purposes such as working capital, purchase of furniture, fixtures, machinery, supplies, equipment and/or inventory. Microloans may not be used for the purchase of real estate. Interest rates are negotiated between the borrower and the intermediary.

Many entrepreneurs believe that having an idea, patent, or new product is all that is necessary to start and finance a new venture. However, there are important factors to consider before approaching traditional and alternative capital funding resources.

Often, entrepreneurs are disappointed to learn that professional investors don't invest money in ideas or new products. Sometimes financing a new venture requires creativity and resourcefulness. Some options include:

- Personal Resources - including personal funds, credit cards, money from family and friends, and home equity loans
- Equity Barter - trading equity in the company in exchange for services, product development, suppliers, goods, and management assistance prior to getting funded
- Suppliers - negotiating terms or signing promissory notes in lieu of cash payments
- Leasing - acquiring equipment through leasing versus using a bank loan
- Licensing - letting another company incur the cost of manufacturing, marketing and distribution in exchange for the payment of royalties
- Strategic Partners - convincing another company to pay the bills (maybe the company’s first customer or a company that needs the product internally or for their own market)
- Special Funds - chambers of commerce and some government and private agencies may operate programs that help businesses raise capital for expansion or relocation, especially if the project will benefit the immediate community or boost economic development
- Traditional Lenders - commercial banks, including SBA lenders, are not in the venture capital business and usually stay away from making loans to startups, unless there are substantial business and personal assets (real estate, equipment, marketable securities and home equity) that they can take as collateral (in addition to demanding good credit and other safeguards)
- Non-Traditional Lenders - other types of lenders that will work with a new company and take more risk than banks, while charging higher interest rates (taking accounts receivables, customer contracts and purchase orders as collateral)
SMALL BUSINESS CAPITAL INVESTMENT TAX CREDIT (ANGEL INVESTMENT)

Arizona’s Small Business Capital Investment Tax Credit makes $20 million available in tax credits to “investors” that make an investment in a company certified by the Arizona Commerce Authority (ACA). Angel investors are traditionally high net-worth individuals that are investing up to $250,000 into companies with products and ideas that may resonate at a personal level.

This Arizona tax credit will assist early stage small businesses in attracting the much-needed capital to expand operations and bring new ideas, products and services to market. An investor may receive an Arizona income tax credit up to 30% or 35% of the investment amount, depending on the type or location of the company. For more information, visit the ACA website at www.azcommerce.com select “Incentives.”

VENTURE CAPITAL

Venture capital firms provide equity financing to small businesses. This equity position usually ranges from 10-percent to 40-percent. Most venture capitalists indicate they are interested in proposals requiring an investment in the area of $250,000 to $1.5 million.

Venture capital financing is not commonly available for startup businesses. Inquiries should be made directly to the venture capital firms. For the Arizona list of licensed Small Business Investment Companies (SBIC), visit the SBA website at http://archive.sba.gov/aboutsba/sbaprorgrams/inv/INV_DIRECTORY_SBIC.html select “Small Business Investment Companies In Arizona.”

FINANCING YOUR BUSINESS: Financial Options and Funding Sources

FUNDING FOR INNOVATION AND TECHNOLOGY COMPANIES

ARIZONA INNOVATION ACCELERATOR FUND
In 2011, the Arizona Commerce Authority (ACA) was awarded $18.2 million from the U.S. Department of Treasury’s Small Business Credit Initiative for the Arizona Innovation Accelerator Fund program. This loan participation program helps spur financing to small businesses and manufacturers, in collaboration with private finance partners, to foster business expansion and job creation in the state.

Financing packages may range from $50,000 to $2 million. Loan proceeds are to be used for working capital, inventory, equipment purchase, and real property improvements.

The ACA will target industries including renewable energy and sustainability, bio and life sciences, electronics, information technology, aerospace and defense, and advanced manufacturing. ACA’s website, http://www.azcommerce.com/arizona-innovation-accelerator-fund, provides more detailed information and an application form for this program.

ARIZONA STATE TRADE AND EXPORT PROMOTION (STEP) PROGRAM
The STEP program will assist Arizona small businesses enter export markets for the first time or to expand into new markets. For more details, see Chapter 7 and visit the ACA website at www.azcommerce.com/az-step-grant.

STEP is partially funded by the SBA. SBA’s funding is not an endorsement of any products, opinions or services. All SBA funded programs are extended to the public on a nondiscriminatory basis.

ARIZONA INNOVATION CHALLENGE
The Arizona Innovation Challenge advances innovation and technology commercialization opportunities in Arizona by supporting early stage ventures in Arizona’s targeted industries (renewable energy and sustainability, bio and life sciences, electronics, information technologies, aerospace and defense and advanced manufacturing). Companies receiving awards will be required to commercialize their technology and generate revenue within one year. For more information, visit the website at www.azinnovationchallenge.com.

AZ FAST GRANT PROGRAM
The Arizona Commerce Authority launched the AZ Fast Grant Program in December 2011. This competitive grant program provides seed money to technology-based companies to help initiate the commercialization process. Companies with fewer than 30 employees and revenues less than $2 million may qualify to receive up to $7,500 for professional consulting services to help bring their product to the next stage of completion.

This grant program will be offered periodically throughout the year. A full description of the requirements and grant application is online at www.azcommerce.com/az-fast-grant.

SBIR/STTR PROPOSAL TRAINING PROGRAM

As a sole proprietor or partnership, you can register your business name with the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State offices are open Monday - Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., excluding state holidays.
When organizing a new business, one of the first and most important decisions is identifying the structure of the business.

In Arizona, several business structures exist:

- Sole Proprietorship
- General Partnership
- Limited Partnership (LP)
- Limited Liability Partnership (LLP)
- Limited Liability Limited Partnership (LLLP)
- Limited Liability Company (LLC)
- Corporation
- S Corporation
- Non-Profit Corporation

See page 40 to review Comparison Grid of Business Structures.

No one choice suits every business. You have to pick the structure that best meets your needs. Also, your initial choice of a business structure may change. You may start out as a sole proprietorship or partnership and later, if your business grows or the risk of personal liability increases, convert your business to an LLC or a corporation. If you are uncertain which business structure is right for you, you may want to discuss your options with an accountant and/or attorney prior to starting your business.

The following resources provide referrals/listing of, and/or verify, licensed professionals:

Accountant:

Attorney:

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP

A sole proprietorship is the simplest and most common form of business organization. It is defined as a business that is owned by one individual. The creation of a business as a sole proprietorship requires no formal Arizona filing. Profits and losses are reported on a separate schedule within your personal tax return.

Advantages:
- A sole proprietor has complete control and decision-making power over the business.
- There is usually very little reporting required with the sole proprietorship.
- Sale or transfer can take place at the discretion of the sole proprietor.

Disadvantages:
- All responsibilities and business decisions fall on the shoulders of the sole proprietor.
- It is relatively difficult to obtain long-term financing. Investors generally do not invest in sole proprietorships.
- The sole proprietor of the business may be held personally liable for the debts and obligations of the business.
GENERAL PARTNERSHIP

A general partnership is an association of two or more persons joined together to carry on trade or business for profit. Each partner may contribute skills, money and/or time, and each shares in the company’s profits and losses. Earnings are reported at the end of the year with personal tax returns.

The partnership’s existence is usually formalized through preparation of a written agreement. In general, agreements outline each partner’s share of income, gain, loss, deductions, credits and methods to dissolve the partnership under various situations. It is not required to file your agreement with the state.

Advantages:
• Creating a general partnership is simpler, cheaper, and requires less paperwork than forming a corporation.
• Partnerships do not pay income tax. Instead, all profits and losses are passed through to the individual partners.
• Most partnerships allow any partner to make decisions on behalf of the company.

Disadvantages:
• All partners are personally liable for business debts and liabilities.
• Having all partners equal in power and responsibility may create challenges.
• The buying out of a partner may be difficult unless specifically arranged for in a written agreement.

TRADE NAME SELECTION AND REGISTRATION

The process of selecting a trade name begins with a search for existing names registered by other companies. Selecting a trade name used by another business can make a company liable for trade name infringement. Therefore, a business needs to check multiple sources for existing trade names before making a final decision on a business name. Begin your search with the Secretary of State’s searchable database of trade names registered in the state.

Additional searches for specific business activity:
• Construction companies need to check name availability first with the Arizona Registrar of Contractors by calling 602-542-1525.
• Mortgage companies need to check name availability first with the Arizona Department of Financial Institutions by calling 602-771-2800.

The registration of a trade name (business name, DBA) is not legally required in Arizona, but is an accepted business practice. In addition, the registration of the trade name may be required to open business bank accounts and help obtain additional licenses.

As a sole proprietor or partnership, you may register your business name with the Secretary of State. The trade name application may be downloaded from the website and can be either mailed or applied for in person. Offices are open Monday - Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., excluding state holidays.

Please note that applications for registration of a trade name that are mailed to the Secretary of State’s Office must be notarized and include a photocopy of a valid identification card issued by a U.S. state or the federal government. However, notarizations are not required for those bringing their applications in person. Instead, walk-in applicants must provide an identification card issued by a U.S. state or the federal government.

If you are filing as an LLC or corporation with the Arizona Corporation Commission, it is not necessary to register your corporate name as a trade name with the Secretary of State’s office, as names are cross-referenced with the Commission.

A certificate of fictitious name, primarily for “Doing Business As” (DBA) title, can be issued by filling out a form that states the name of the business owner and business location at any County Recorder’s Office.

LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (LP)

The limited partnership (LP) has become an increasingly popular choice for business owners, especially those involved in real estate or other investment ventures. Unlike general partnerships, LPs can limit the liability and the involvement of certain partners. This is useful for attracting investment partners who would like to participate in the profits of the business but not necessarily in its risks or daily operations.

The profits and losses in a limited partnership flow through the business to the partners, all of whom are taxed on their personal income tax returns. LPs are required to register with the Arizona Secretary of State.

Advantages:
- It is easier to attract investors since the only liability for limited partners is the capital they invest in the business.
- LPs allow general partners to focus their efforts on running the business.
- Limited partners may leave or be replaced without dissolving the LP.

Disadvantages:
- Each general partner assumes full personal liability for the debts and obligations of the partnership.
- The limited partners are limited in the role they can play in the running of the company.
- If the general partner wants to transfer his role in the company, or add a new partner, the limited partner has the ability to veto his choice.

Foreign Limited Partnership (LP), Foreign Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) and Foreign Limited Liability Limited Partnership (LLLP)

If the business is a foreign entity – an entity organized under the laws of another state or country – it must register with the Arizona Secretary of State. You may download the form www.azsos.gov/business_services/partnerships/PartnershipForms.htm.

LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIP (LLP) AND LIMITED LIABILITY LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (LLLP)

Arizona’s limited liability partnership statutes (A.R.S. § 29-1101, et seq.) govern both limited liability partnerships (LLPs) and limited liability limited partnerships (LLLPs) and permit both general partnerships and limited partnerships to elect limited liability for their general partner(s). The owners report company profits and losses on their personal income tax forms. The business itself is not subject to a federal income tax, as corporations are.

To ensure that all legal requirements are satisfied, it is a good idea to consult an attorney to organize these types of partnerships. LLPs and LLLPs are required to register with the Arizona Secretary of State.

Advantages:
- There are no restrictions as to maximum number of partners.
- There is a limit to the amount that may be recovered in a lawsuit to partnership assets alone.
- LLPs and LLLPs always treated as a partnership entity for tax purposes.

Disadvantages:
- The individual acting as general partner assumes personal liability.
- The limited partners are limited in the role they can play in the running of the company.
- A few states do not recognize these business structures.

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (LLC) AND CORPORATIONS

Should you decide to create a limited liability company (LLC) or corporation, you must then file with the Corporations Division of the Arizona Corporation Commission.

Arizona Corporation Commission, Corporations Division 1300 W. Washington Street, Phoenix, AZ 85007 602-542-3026; 800-345-5819 www.azcc.gov/divisions/corporations

400 W. Congress Street, Suite 221, Tucson, AZ 85701 520-628-6560

Reserving of the LLC or Corporation Name Electronically filing your business name reservation for $45 immediately reserves your name so no other person can take it. However, if you do not need to expedite your name filing, you may reserve your name by downloading the application from the Arizona Corporation Commission website, and it can be either mailed or applied for in person for $10.
LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY (LLC)

A limited liability company (LLC) is a flexible form of enterprise that blends elements of the partnership and corporate structures. LLCs are popular because, similar to a corporation, owners have limited personal liability for the debts and actions of the LLC. Other features of LLCs are more like a partnership, providing management flexibility and the benefit of pass-through taxation.

Owners of an LLC are called members. There is no maximum number of members. LLCs are required to file with the Arizona Corporation Commission.

Advantages:
- Owners have limited personal liability for business debts even if they participate in management.
- Profit and loss can be allocated differently than ownership interests.
- Can build in buy or sell, and owner compensation provision.

Disadvantages:
- LLCs are more expensive to create than partnership or sole proprietorship.
- A large number of owners complicates status.
- Death, bankruptcy or withdrawal of owner may cause problems.

CORPORATION

A corporation is the most complex type of business organization. It is formed by law as a separate entity, completely distinct from those who own it, and has its own rights and responsibilities.

The primary advantage of incorporating lies in the area of liability. A corporation has its own legal identity, completely separate from its owners. The corporation safeguards the business owner’s personal assets, and its protection alone justifies the additional expense and paperwork.

In forming a corporation, potential shareholders usually offer money and/or property in exchange for capital stock. The shareholders are the owners of the corporation, and the directors and officers of the corporation may or may not be shareholders. Corporations are required to file with the Arizona Corporation Commission.

Advantages:
- A corporation is a separate legal entity with unlimited life of the business.
- There is limited liability for shareholders and transfer of ownership through stock sale.
- It is relatively easy to raise capital.
Disadvantages:
• Corporations are complex and expensive to organize with extensive regulation and record-keeping requirements.
• Activities are limited by the corporate charter.
• Corporations are subject to double taxation – once on corporation profits and again on dividends.

Employer Identification Number (EIN)
An Employer Identification Number (EIN) is also known as a Federal Tax Identification Number, and is used to identify a business entity. You may apply for an EIN at https://sa2.irs.gov/modiein/individual/index.jsp or call 800-829-4933.

S CORPORATION
An S corporation sometimes referred to as a “Subchapter S corporation,” allows you the protection of a corporation with some of the financial flexibility of a partnership and elects not to be subject to federal corporate income tax.

The shareholders, however, include their shares of the corporation's items of income, deduction, loss and credit, or their shares of non-separately computed income or loss, as part of their personal income.

To qualify as an S corporation, a corporation must meet the following:
• It must be based in the United States,
• It must have only one class of stock,
• It must have no more than 75 shareholders, and
• It cannot have any nonresident alien as a shareholder.

A corporation that meets all of the above criteria can become an S corporation if:
• All shareholders consent to the corporation's election of S corporation,
• The corporation has a permitted tax year, and
• It is filed with the Arizona Corporation Commission as a corporation.

To elect to be an S corporation, a corporation must file Form 2553 with IRS. The election permits the income to be taxed to the shareholders of the corporation rather than to the corporation itself, except as noted in the IRS general information booklet entitled “Instructions for Form 2553, Election by a Small Business Corporation.” For instructions and Form 2553, visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/i2553.pdf and www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/f2553.pdf.

NON-PROFIT CORPORATION
Arizona allows the formation of a non-profit corporation, but if the corporation intends to be tax-exempt, it must apply for that status through the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). There are more than a dozen different types of corporations approved by the Internal Revenue Service as “tax-exempt non-profit.” These organizations usually are developed and operated exclusively for one or more of the following purposes: charitable, religious, educational, scientific, literary, testing for public safety, fostering amateur sports competition (under certain restrictions), or the prevention of cruelty to children or animals. The organization may be a corporation, community chest fund or foundation. A sole proprietorship or partnership may not qualify. Non-profit corporations are required to file with the Arizona Corporation Commission.

The Arizona Department of Revenue publishes “Non-Profit Organizations” brochure. To visit, visit their website at www.azdor.gov/Portals/0/Brochure/501.pdf.

For a listing of organizations supporting non-profits, visit the Arizona Commerce Authority’s website at www.azcommerce.com/smallbiz, under “Click on a Step or Topic of Interest” select “Business Structure (Entity)/Employer Identification Number (EIN)” for “Non-profit Corporation.”

Foreign Limited Liability Company (LLC), Foreign Corporation and Foreign Non-Profit Corporation
If your business is organized under the laws of another state or country and you want to conduct business within Arizona, you will need to register as a foreign limited liability company (LLC), foreign profit corporation, or foreign non-profit corporation with the Arizona Corporation Commission. Visit the Arizona Corporation Commission’s website for filing instructions and to download the proper forms.
Finding the correct business location is one of the most important decisions you will make. The ideal location for your business depends on a number of factors. The most important consideration is the type of business. Before you decide on a location, consider a few of the factors that can help you select the best location for your business.

- If you conduct much of your business online, establishing a home-based business might be more desirable and economical than leasing commercial office space.

- If you manufacture products for distribution, an ideal location might be an industrial park near major transportation ports.

- If your type of business depends heavily on pedestrian or drive-by traffic, such as a florist, gift shop or clothing boutique, you’ll want to seek a popular retail location.

HOME-BASED BUSINESSES

Home-based businesses, including those that operate online, must comply with the same license and permit requirements as a business located at a commercial site.
In addition, home-based business activities must be in compliance with city/county residential zoning rules and homeowners’ association rules or the deed restrictions on property.

To access referrals/listing of, and/or to verify licensed professionals, contact:
Commercial Real Estate Broker:
Arizona Department of Real Estate
602-771-7799; 520-628-6940

LEASING A COMMERCIAL OFFICE SPACE

Leasing a commercial office space is one of the most costly expenses made by new and expanding businesses. Commercial leases are often negotiated, and there is no standard for commercial leases. It’s recommended that you obtain an attorney to help make sure you receive the best deal.

BUYING A COMMERCIAL BUILDING

When buying a commercial building, you may benefit from working with a real estate professional. If you decide to work with a realtor, choose one familiar with the area you are shopping and one who is experienced in commercial sales.

In Arizona, each incorporated city/town in which you do business may have its own license, permit and/or tax requirements, as well as zoning rules. Contact the city/town in which your business will be based, as well as, any city/town in which you will conduct business to learn about local requirements and/or restrictions that may affect your business.

If your business will be based and/or operate in an unincorporated region of the county, check with the county Planning and Zoning and/or Development Services departments regarding zoning laws. Check also with the Fire department and county Sheriff’s office for any regulations/restrictions that might impact your business.

For a listing of all county/city/town licensing offices, visit the Arizona Commerce Authority’s website at www.azcommerce.com/services/small-business-services, select “Quick Links to Licensing Offices.”

ENVIRONMENTAL COMPLIANCES

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) offers a variety of compliance assistance resources such as workshops, training sessions, hotlines, websites and guides to assist you in complying with federal and state environmental laws. To learn more, visit www.epa.gov.

STATE OF ARIZONA AGENCIES AND DEPARTMENTS

The following is a list of contact information for Arizona’s state agencies and departments that provide licensing, certification, or permits for business activities conducted in Arizona. Most links will take you directly to homepage; information on business activity requirements may be posted under terms such as: Licensing, Permits, Certifications, Applications and/or Forms.

Federal
If your business is involved in activities that are supervised and regulated by a federal agency, you may need to obtain a federal license. The federal licenses and permits that you may need for your business are listed on the SBA website at www.sba.gov, under “Starting a Business” select “Obtain Business Licenses.”

State
In Arizona, not all businesses need a license, and some businesses may need more than one license. The number and types of license(s) required depend on several factors including what type of business you will have, where your business will be based and operate, and what type of products and/or services you will sell.

Visit the Arizona Commerce Authority’s Checklist Program at www.azcommerce.com/services/small-business-services, under “Selected Professions/Business Activities” you will find links to several professions’business activities’ specific business licensing information. Although this listing is not comprehensive, there are many to review.

Local
Regulatory licenses (or permits) may be required at the local level by either the city/town and/or the county in which your business will be based and/or operate. Contact them directly to learn about their requirements and/or restrictions.

If you are not sure if your business activity requires a regulatory license or which agency is the correct one for your profession or business activity, you may wish to visit the AZ.gov Occupational Licenses by Agency or Department web page at http://az.gov/app/license/index.xhtml.

One of the responsibilities of starting and operating a business is determining the type of taxes your business should pay.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX

Every business must file an annual return with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Separate forms or schedules apply depending on the type of business.

The IRS has excellent, easy-to-read publications to help you understand the tax system on their website at www.irs.gov/Businesses, select any of the business topics listed:

- Starting a Business
- Operating a Business
- Closing a Business
- Employer ID Numbers
- Small Business Events
- Employment Taxes
- Appeal a Tax Dispute
- Businesses Home
FEDERAL EXCISE TAX
Excise taxes are taxes paid when purchases are made on a specific good, such as gasoline. These taxes are often included in the price of the product. There are also excise taxes on activities, such as on wagering or on highway usage by trucks. The IRS provides a complete list on excise taxes and specific information on their website at www.irs.gov/Businesses/Small-Businesses-&-Self-Employed/Excise-Tax.

FEDERAL AND STATE EMPLOYMENT TAXES
Review the “Hiring Employees and Contract Labor” in the next chapter (6) of this resource guide for information.

STATE CORPORATE INCOME TAX
Every corporation doing business in Arizona is required to file a corporate income tax return. For more information, visit the Arizona Department of Revenue website at www.azdor.gov/Forms/Corporate.aspx or call 602-255-3381 or 800-352-4090.

STATE PROPERTY TAX
With the exception of centrally valued properties such as airlines, railroads and mines, property tax in Arizona is assessed and administered in each individual county by the county assessor. For a list of links to county websites, visit http://az.gov/government_county_statemap.html.

STATE TRANSACTION PRIVILEGE TAX
If you are selling a product or engaging in a service subject to transaction privilege tax, you will need to obtain the state transaction privilege tax (TPT) license (commonly referred to as a sales tax, resale, wholesale, vendor or tax license).

To access referrals/listing of, and/or to verify licensed professionals, contact:

Accountant:
Arizona Society of Certified Public Accountants (ASCPA)
602-252-4144; 888-237-0700
www.ascpa.com

Attorney:
State Bar of Arizona
602-252-4804; 520-623-9944; 866-482-9227
www.azbar.org

If you pay someone to prepare your tax return, the IRS urges you to choose that preparer wisely. The IRS now requires all tax preparers to register and take a test as well as take continuing classes. Before choosing a tax professional, go to www.irs.gov and enter keyword search term “Tips for Choosing a Tax Return Preparer.”
To review tax publications regarding activities subject to the state transaction privilege tax, visit the Arizona Department of Revenue website at www.aztaxes.gov and click on “Publications.” In addition, review the “Arizona Licensing Guide.”

ARIZONA JOINT TAX APPLICATION (FORM JT-1)

The Arizona Joint Tax Application (Form JT-1) is used to apply for:
- Transaction Privilege Tax (TPT) License
- Withholding/Unemployment Tax License
- Use Tax License
- TPT for Cities

The application is called “Joint” because it is used by both the Arizona Department of Revenue (DOR) and Arizona Department of Economic Security (DES). The DOR also issues City Transaction Privilege Tax licenses for cities that have entered into a joint collection program with the state. The fees vary from city to city, and a listing of participating municipalities is provided on the application.

TRANSACTION PRIVILEGE TAX (TPT) LICENSE

To apply online for a state transaction privilege tax (TPT) license, if you are starting a new business with no previous owners, go to www.aztaxes.gov, select “License a New Business.” You can download the application form (JT-1) from DOR’s website www.azdor.gov/Forms.aspx, select “TPT,” and mail in or take in person to one of DOR’s locations with the applicable state and city/town fee(s).

Note: Due to bonding requirements, construction contractors are not permitted to file online.

You will be required to include your North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes on your TPT application. NAICS was developed jointly by the U.S., Canada and Mexico to provide new comparability in statistics about business activity across North America. To look up your NAICS codes, visit the Arizona Department of Revenue website at www.aztaxes.gov and click on “Business Tax Description Codes.”

STATE WITHHOLDING AND UNEMPLOYMENT TAX LICENSE

Review the “Hiring Employees and Contract Labor” section (6) of this resource guide for information on Withholding and Unemployment Tax.

USE TAX LICENSE

Use tax is due when tax was not paid on purchases made over the Internet, through toll-free numbers, from mail order catalogs, and/or from out-of-state locations. Arizona Department of Revenue’s Publication #610 “Use Tax” is available for your review at www.azdor.gov/Portals/0/Brochure/610.pdf.

Tax Rate Tables

Visit Arizona Department of Revenue’s website at www.azdor.gov/Business/TransactionPrivilegeTax/TPTRates.aspx for state and county privilege tax rates, including the city privilege tax rates and city codes for program cities (taxes collected by the state). In addition, you will find the list of non-program cities; these cities collect their own taxes. The transaction privilege tax for these cities must be reported directly to the applicable city.

Wholesale Tobacco Dealer’s License and Liquor Wholesalers, Microbreweries, Farm Wineries and Cider Products

Visit the Arizona Department of Revenue Luxury Tax Section website at www.azdor.gov/Business/LuxuryTax.aspx, or call 602-716-7808 to obtain the necessary tax forms to report and pay taxes.

Pima County One-Stop opened the Kino Veterans’ Workforce Center, 2801 E. Ajo Way, Tucson, AZ to help military veterans find jobs and receive training, benefits and support services, as well as to help employers hire veterans.
LABOR GUIDELINES

Before you can determine how to treat payments you make for services, you must first know the business relationship that exists between you and the person performing the services.

The person performing the services may be:

- An independent contractor
- An employee

In determining whether the person providing service is an employee or an independent contractor, all information that provides evidence of the degree of control and independence must be considered. For more information, visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov/businesses under “Small Businesses & Self-Employed,” select “Independent Contractor (Self Employed) or Employee?”

CONTRACT LABOR

An individual is an independent contractor if the person for whom the services are performed has the right to control or direct only the result of the work, and not what will be accomplished and how it will be accomplished or the method of accomplishing the result.

When using contract labor, you must complete IRS Form 1099-MISC, “Miscellaneous Income” to report any income you paid to the individual. You must send a copy of this form to the recipient and to the IRS. Visit the IRS website for instructions on filing the 1099-MISC form at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/f1099msc.pdf.
Self-Employment Tax is a tax consisting of Social Security and Medicare tax primarily for individuals who work for themselves. It is similar to the Social Security and Medicare taxes withheld from the pay of most wage earners.

This tax is in addition to any federal income tax you may pay on your net profits. You may determine self-employment tax (SE Tax) yourself using Schedule SE (Form 1040). Filing requirements are listed in the form’s instructions at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/i1040.pdf.

For more information, see IRS’s Publication # 334, Tax Guide for Small Business (For Individuals Who Use Schedule C or C-EZ) at www.irs.gov/publications/p334/index.html.
EMPLOYEE’S SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER (SSN)
As an employer, it is now your responsibility to report payroll information annually to the Social Security Administration and to your employees. Social Security and Medicare taxes pay for benefits that workers and families receive under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). Social Security tax pays for benefits under the old-age, survivors and disability insurance part of FICA. Medicare tax pays for benefits under the hospital insurance part of FICA.

All employees must have a Social Security number. You are required to get each employee’s name and Social Security number and to enter them on Form W-2 (This requirement also applies to resident and nonresident alien employees).

Business Services Online (BSO), www.ssa.gov/bso, enables organizations and authorized individuals to conduct business with, and submit confidential information to, the Social Security Administration. You must register to use this website. Registered users may request, activate and access various BSO services and functions including information on wage reporting.

The Arizona Department of Insurance website, www.azinsurance.gov, provides information on consumer publications, compared premiums, complaint ratios, health insurance resources and more.

A trademark includes any word, name, symbol or device adopted and used by an individual or a corporation to distinguish its goods or services from the goods or services of others.

A copyright protects the “works” or expressions of an author or artist against copying, performance, display, or use as an underlying work. It protects the form of expression rather than the subject matter or idea of the writing.

EXPANDING TO INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

INTERNATIONAL SALES
The International Division of the Arizona Commerce Authority helps develop international trade opportunities for Arizona businesses and puts together several international trade missions a year, encouraging the participation of Arizona entrepreneurs.

Companies with a desire to expand international should do their homework before jumping into an unknown business environment. A company must go into international ventures with a long-term financial commitment as well as a sense of its risk-reward factors.

For example, a culturally sensitive business plan provides for an international road map, and entrepreneurs establishing foreign ventures must familiarize themselves with prevailing local laws, industry-specific regulations, and export and import licenses.

Securing state and federal licenses are also important elements for international trade. International currency contracts also must be negotiated to allow for payment at market rates for goods and services provided. Shipping and insurance costs also will figure into the equation.

While the Internet can initially provide assistance in making contact with prospective foreign markets, it’s no substitute for the face-to-face contact that should be considered a requirement before conducting any business operations abroad.

To attend an ACA trade mission, participate in an international trade show, or to establish your international business ties and expand your business, visit the ACA website at www.azcommerce.com. Under “Services,” select “International Business Services” or call 602-845-1200.

Creating a profile in SAM and keeping it current ensures your firm has access to federal contracting opportunities. To register, visit https://sam.gov and click “create an account” or call 866-606-8220.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PROCUREMENT

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) website lists the steps to registering as a federal contractor at www.sba.gov under “Contracting.” SBA ensures that small businesses have access to long-lasting development opportunities to receive government contracts.

SBA conducts a free workshop, Selling to the Federal Government. For schedules and registration, visit their website at www.sba.gov/az or call 602-745-7208.

In addition to the State Purchasing Cooperative, there are a number of other purchasing cooperatives active throughout Arizona. For more information, visit the State Procurement Office website at http://spo.az.gov and select “Cooperative Procurement.”

In addition, vendors are encouraged to approach the purchasing departments of each county and city/town to present their products and/or services. See Chapter 5 for the listing of county/city/town websites and contact numbers.

Many government agencies require that some percentage of their procurements be set aside for small businesses. Certifying your business will help you successfully compete for government contracts.

FEDERAL CERTIFICATION
The federal government sets aside certain contract bid opportunities exclusively for small businesses. As part of the registration process, you must register your business with the federal government’s SAM, the primary database of vendors doing business with the federal government. In SAM, you may self-certify as a small business, but you must meet the federal government’s definition of a small business. For more information, visit www.sba.gov, and under “Contracting,” select “Small Business Certifications & Audiences.”

SBA conducts a free workshop, Selling to the Federal Government. It includes understanding certification programs such as 8(a) and HUBZone. For schedules and registration, visit their website at www.sba.gov/az or call 602-745-7208.

The 8(a) Program is a business development program created to help small, disadvantaged businesses compete in the marketplace. To apply for 8(a) certification, visit www.sba.gov/8a or call 602-745-7200.

The Historically Underutilized Business Zones (HUBZone) program helps small businesses in urban and rural communities gain preferential access to federal procurement opportunities. To apply for the HUBZone Certification, visit www.sba.gov/hubzone.

ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION’S DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE PROGRAM (DBE)
The Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) has established a Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) program in accordance with the regulations of the U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT). The DBE program ensures a “level playing field” and fosters equal opportunity in all ADOT assisted contracts that include highway, transit and airport programs.

The ADOT Supportive Services Program is designed to assist qualified small businesses to become certified as DBE firms. Once certified, the program strives to assist those firms to become self-sufficient in their respective industry. Visit ADOT DBE Supportive Services blog at www.adotdbe.com for upcoming events and latest updates.

The city of Phoenix extends an equal economic opportunity to compete for business for all small businesses interested in participating in SBE and federally assisted DBE contracts including airport concessions and airport, highway, and transit-related projects.

The Equal Opportunity Department (EOD) Business Relations Division administers the SBE Certification and the DBE Certification Programs. EOD offers certification services at no cost. Workshops are offered monthly and staff is available to assist you in the application process.

CITY OF TUCSON’S SMALL BUSINESS ENTERPRISE (SBE) PROGRAM AND DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE (DBE) PROGRAM

The city of Tucson provides opportunities and incentives to certified firms located in Pima County on projects and contracts administered by the city’s procurement department.

The general information and certification applications for SBE and DBE may be obtained from the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs (OEOP) website. Many small businesses may also qualify as a DBE. Only one application and one set of supporting documentation is required, even when multiple categories are identified.

The Arizona UCP has been established to facilitate statewide DBE certification. The UCP eliminates the need for DBE applicant businesses to obtain certification from multiple agencies, and provides reciprocity within Arizona. The Arizona Department of Transportation, City of Phoenix, and the City of Tucson are members of the Arizona UCP. The official UCP DBE database includes DBE firms certified by these three agencies at www.azdbe.com/DBE_search.aspx.

If you are certified with the Arizona Department of Transportation, City of Phoenix or City of Tucson as a Small (SBE) or Disadvantaged (DBE) Business Enterprise, you will automatically be listed in the Arizona Steps Up Directory. This free online directory is an electronic resource for state procurement and public purchasing personnel to locate certified small and disadvantaged businesses. For the listing of all certified businesses, visit http://az.gov/app/azstepsup/home.xhtml.

NETWORKING IN THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY

Joining chambers of commerce, associations and organizations, and actively participating in them is a great way to market your business. As a member, you can network with other members to promote your business.

From seminars and luncheons to business expos and various business committees, there’s absolutely no excuse for not being able to meet new contacts, referrals and people who can help you with ideas and additional ways to grow your business.

The following pages of this section provide contact information of the many chambers of commerce, associations and organizations in Arizona.

BUSINESS ADVOCACY

STEPS TO SUCCESSFUL NETWORKING

1. Choose the right setting. Make sure that the purpose of the function is to promote business.
2. Go prepared. Always carry your business cards. Be ready with a “3-minute commercial” describing your key business benefits.
3. Don’t overwhelm contacts. Don’t bore people with excessive details about your company when you first meet them. Save the specifics for a second meeting, unless your new acquaintance asks to know more.
CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Contact your local chamber to learn more about their organization and the multitude of educational courses, events and benefit programs that can be offered to you.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE ALLIANCES

Alliances serve as the public policy advocacy body on issues that impact the business and economic climate of the areas served by their participating chambers of commerce members.

"At the Corporation Commission, we give a copy of the Entrepreneur’s Edge to customers who are starting new LLCs or Corporations. Customers are happy to get something in writing that helps them understand the process and provides them with some resources for learning how to set up and run a business. The book answers many of their questions.”

Christy Parker, Customer Service Unit Supervisor
Arizona Corporation Commission Corporations Division

"Customers visit our office in their journey in becoming entrepreneurs and may not have all of the information they need to make informative decisions. The AZEE booklet provides them with the answers to questions they did not anticipate and helps to better prepare them to proceed.”

Joann Arellano, Director BSD
Arizona Secretary Of State

"I really appreciate the book and all the information it holds – I do the business licensing for the City of Goodyear and almost every day there is at least one new business owner who has no idea where to turn for information - it’s been a great help for me to give them the Entrepreneur’s Edge.”

Tina Daniels, Small Business Advocate
City of Goodyear

"Having this publication is a great benefit to us as it outlines the state level programs and types of assistance out there for small businesses, and does so in a concise, straightforward way that is easy for entrepreneurs to utilize. It has allowed the City of Maricopa to save staff time and costs in creating a duplicative document to serve these needs.”

Danielle Casey, CEdC, EDFP, Economic Development, Director
City of Maricopa

"Great one-stop-shopping journal for small business owners to use to locate resources. Replaces hundreds of individual brochures, and the journal is well organized. We give these out to all startup clients.”

Tracy Mancuso, Northland Pioneer College SBDC

"The best thing about the guide is that it exists! At the library, it has been so helpful to have a one-stop resource that can fill so many needs with our customers who are often new to the entire world of starting and operating a business. Particularly the contacts, business structure outline, and focus on agencies that help in the various situations (as an employer, business name, etc.).”

Sandy Rizzo, Librarian III, Business Specialist, MLS,
Mesa Public Library, Red Mountain Branch

"At the Arizona Department of Revenue, we pass out the Edge to all new business licensees that we process. Many times we provide them a copy to read while we input their application information into our system. We frequently get comments on how valuable it is to small business owners. Others, who overhear the comments, request a copy, as well. Thank you for publishing such a valuable business tool.”

Bob Meist, Arizona Department of Revenue

"We find Arizona Entrepreneur’s Edge to be an amazing resource for providing the public with everything they need to know about starting and operating a business in Arizona. When I hand it out, people usually stop with all their questions and realize they have something in their hand, they need to take home and study. Thanks for providing it!”

David Jakim, Records Clerk, City Clerk Office
City of Sedona

“What our office likes about the guide that it full of good resources, explanations regarding different types of businesses, registrations, tax and licensing. It is just a perfect tool for anyone who is just starting out and has a lot of questions.”

Siria Quintero, Tax & License Specialist
City of Mesa Tax and Licensing Office

“The city of Phoenix routinely take the “Entrepreneur’s Edge” with us to business presentations for distribution as well as direct individuals to the Arizona Commerce Authority’s website for the electronic version of the guide. This information is valuable for both startups and existing businesses, as it helps them save time toward obtaining accurate business assistance information.”

Kedrick Ellison, CEdC, MBA
City of Phoenix Community and Economic Development

“One of my favorite parts is the section on financial statements with the templates that business owners can use to plug in their numbers. I also like the section on business structure, licensing and taxes. These are areas where we seem to get a lot of questions.”

Lorrie Pena, Program Assistant
Central Arizona College SBDC
